

New library Item for Chemical Sciences Students

Molymod Mms-072: Molecular Set for Inorganic & Organic Chemistry, 72 Atoms recommended by Dr. Worawat Niwetmarin

Molecular and atomic models, Molymod®, are now available to use at our library. These molecular model kits are designed for ball-and-stick (open) and semi-space-filling (closed) models. Each colour plastic balls represent each type of the elements; such as white for hydrogen, black for carbon, red for oxygen, blue for nitrogen, etc. Simple organic molecules with different hybridizations and bond orders can be built. These models allow students to visually understand the shape of the molecules in three dimensions, which is greatly important for studying the stereochemistry of chemical compounds.

PubMed and PubMed Central CGI Most Popular

The most popular resources for CGI library users in 2019 is PubMed. "PubMed is free and comprises more than 30 million citations for biomedical literature from MedLine, life science journals, and online books. Citations include links to full-text from PubMed Central and publisher website." Finding articles from PubMed has been fairly easy. However, user may look for a specific article and needs not to screen from many citations as results normally displayed from regular search from PubMed. The Single Citation Matcher is the function that allows user to find the article quickly. The Single Citation Matcher is a "fill-in-the-blank" form that allows you to enter partial journal article citation information to locate that citation.
