CGI Research Support
New Service on web

CGI Learning Center introduces in our webpage a "Research Support" at https://www.cgi.ac.th/library/research_support to support CGI students, faculty and researchers at CGI, CRI and Chulabhorn Hospital with information on Citation or reference styles/ Citation software/ User education and training/ Publications Ranking.

CGI Learning Center now provides a citation management tool, EndNote X7.4 to facilitate all researchers who need to complete their research reports for publishing in standard academic journals.

What is EndNote? EndNote is a program used for bibliographic management. Users can query or manage references from various sources, such as from the database online and EndNote can import those references to work on EndNote database.

To use the EndNote program,
